

Frequently Asked Questions about the Global Change Fellows Program—

Updated August 2020

Who can I contact about the program?

Aranzazu Lascurain: alascur@ncsu.edu

Who can apply for the global change fellows program?

Any student applying to NC State in a Master or PhD program being recruited by an affiliate of the SE CASC.

Or, be a current NC State graduate student either masters or PhD. The student's research interest must also align with the mission of the SE Climate Adaptation Science Center.

How many students can a Faculty Affiliate nominate?

Only one student per year per Faculty Affiliate can be awarded. However, a Faculty Affiliate can submit two student applications for consideration and one of those two nominations must be an incoming PhD student.

What Colleges have received a Global Change Fellow?

CALS, COS, CHASS, Engineering, Education, CNR, Design, Veterinary Medicine

What materials are required for the application process?

-A copy of student's CV

-A 1 to 2 page personal statement (written by the student being nominated)

-A letter of recommendation from the faculty advisor

-Review of our science plan and understanding of the mission of the SE Climate Adaptation Science Center

-A nomination form filled out by faculty advisor (needs to be a Faculty Affiliate of the SE CASC)

What is the length of the Global Change Fellows Program?

One year, typically it runs August 1 to July 31 of the following year. The program provides a stipend, tuition and health insurance.

What are the minimum requirements?

You must have an interest in climate change adaptation and global change impacts. Your research interest should fall under one of our six science themes. Attendance is required in a week-long training in early August at a location which rotates across the Southeast. Also, a 1-credit seminar in the fall is required as are professional development opportunities planned throughout the year. Participation in these events are required as part of the program.
